Today I'm pleased to welcome Prof. Galin Jones to class. Galin was manager of the consulting clinic at the University of Florida when he was a graduate student there, and will be sharing some of his stories and experiences.

Please think of (at least) one question to ask, and (at least) one interesting thing you heard today, and briefly write them down below. Leave this sheet on the desk at the end of class and a designated student will put the pile in my mailbox.

Write down (at least) one question you'd like to ask.

Write down one interesting thing you heard.
